

Buckinghamshire Hockey Association Code of Conduct—Parents and Spectators

Expected Minimum Standards of Behaviour

Individuals will, at all times respect

- the rules and regulations of hockey.
- the rules and regulations of any venue which they are attending.
- and encourage the spirit of fair play.
- umpires, officials, coaches, players of all teams and other spectators.
- understand and appreciate that the purpose of the activities is primarily development and enjoyment, not just competing to win.

Parents and Spectators will

- realise their responsibilities to be a positive supporter and good example to the young participants.
- ensure, where they are responsible, that their child is punctual to meeting times, training and for matches.
- conduct themselves in a manner which protects their own safety and the safety of others.
- in the case of a parent or carer, be familiar with and abide by England Hockey's anti-doping, and equality and safeguarding policies.
- be alert to any issues which may threaten the safety of anyone attending the activities and alert the appropriate persons.
- be aware when attending matches that you are representing Buckinghamshire Hockey Association and behave in a manner which preserves its reputation.

Parents and Spectators will never

- use inappropriate language or gestures, bullying or threatening behaviour.
- act in any way which brings the sport or Buckinghamshire Hockey Association into disrepute.
